

Name the Treehouse Contest!

Create a Name for the Universally Accessible Treehouse Now being built in Mt. Airy Forest, Cincinnati

The only such treehouse in the Tri-State, the Universally Accessible Treehouse has a series of ramps that provides accessibility to all. Standing on the strong support of tall locust logs, the treehouse will rise high above the ground in Cincinnati's lush Mt. Airy Forest. Hundreds of volunteers are building the treehouse.

A treehouse this special deserves a special name. We're asking kids (ages 1-99) to send us their suggested names in our Name the Treehouse Contest.

Contest prizes: The winner of the Name the Treehouse contest wins:

- ☛ Recognition - The winning name will be used on Cincinnati Parks signage for the Treehouse.
- ☛ Football autographed by all Cincinnati Bengals who help build the treehouse at Hometown Huddle 2006.
- ☛ A free week at a Cincinnati Park Nature Camp in Summer 2007. (Camp and week of winner's choice.)

Deadline: Entries must be postmarked by Sept. 29, 2006. See Page 2/reverse side for contest details.

Michael Flannery/9 On Your Kid's Side and WCPO launched the Universally Accessible Treehouse initiative in Cincinnati, embracing a goal to raise support to build the first such treehouse in the region. Michael Flannery enlisted Forever Young Treehouses designers and visionaries for the project. Cincinnati Parks created the perfect setting for the treehouse within the 1,470 acres of Mt. Airy Forest. Rotary Club of Cincinnati enthusiastically took on the treehouse project in a generous community-wide fundraising campaign. Thanks to all, the Universally Accessible Treehouse has become a reality.

Name the Treehouse Contest!

Treehouse name: _____

Your name _____ Your age _____

(If younger than 16, list parents' names, too: _____

Address _____ City _____

State _____ ZIP _____ Daytime & evening phones: _____

Why you chose this name for the Treehouse: _____

Name the Treehouse contest entries must be postmarked by September 29, 2006.

Mail to: Name the Treehouse Contest, Cincinnati Parks, 950 Eden Park Drive, Cincinnati, OH 45202

Universally Accessible Treehouse

Mt. Airy Forest, 5083 Colerain Avenue, Cincinnati, OH 45223

The only such treehouse in the Tri-State, the universally accessible treehouse has a series of ramps that provides accessibility to all, including children and adults with special needs who are routinely confronted with barriers to fun and play in their daily lives.

Designers: Forever Young Treehouses are ADA-compliant, safe, unique in character, and use building methods that protect the trees.

Treehouse facts:

Total Square Footage (including ramp and landings): 1,500 square feet

Height of Treehouse: 14 feet

Trees Connected to Structure: 12 trees

Estimated Volunteer Hours to Build: 4,000 hours

Width of Ramp: 6 feet

Expected Life of Treehouse: 50+ years

Project cost: $500,000

Treehouse In-Kind Donors

American Scaffolding Inc.
Baker Concrete Construction
Cincinnati Bengals NFL/United Way
Hometown Huddle
Cort Furniture

Drees Homes & Zaring Premier Homes
Home Depot
Homebuilders Association of Greater
Cincinnati
Marvin Lewis Community Fund

Messer Construction Co. (with Hilltop Basic Resources, Gerdau Ameristeel, CHC
Fabricating Corporation and Bobcat)
Mueller Roofing Co.
Scott Crawford

Treehouse Financial Donors

9 On your Kid's Side Fund
Christopher Reeve Paralysis Foundation
The Dornette Foundation
Family & Friends of Bonnie "Gogi" Collins
Family & Friends of Eunice Kemper
Federated Department Stores
Huntington Bank

The Jack J. Smith Jr. Charitable Trust
Kroger Company
Maxwell C. Weaver Foundation
Ohio Attorney General's Office
Settlement Fund
The Procter & Gamble Fund
Ronald McDonald House Charities

Rotary Foundation of Cincinnati
Scripps Howard Foundation
The Spaulding Foundation
Stillson Foundation (Fifth Third Bank, Agent)
The Thomas J. Emery Memorial
US Bank

Treehouse Civic Volunteers

Best Buy
Cincinnati Bengals
Duke Energy
Fifth Third Bank
General Electric

Give Back Cincinnati
Home Depot
Landscape Associates
Marvinettes

PricewaterhouseCoopers
Rotary Club of Cincinnati
United Way
Vineyard Community Church